A Brief History of Our Chapter

The Federal Government Accountants Association (FGAA) was founded on Sept. 14, 1950. On Sept. 8, 1960 the Virginia Peninsula Chapter of FGAA received charter No. 37, with Thomas E. Inman as president and 31 members. The charter was presented to the chapter during a ceremony on Oct. 1, 1960 by FGAA National President Raymond Einhorn. (Today we are known as chapter No. 57). Later, in May 1962, charter No. 43 goes to Tidewater in Norfolk with William H. Morris Jr. as its president. The Tidewater Chapter dissolved and it is not known if its members joined the Virginia Peninsula Chapter. In June 1975, FGAA changed its name to AGA. Today, of the 36 chapters chartered before our chapter, 23 have celebrated their 50th anniversary. Nationally, only 20 chapters are larger than our chapter, excluding the At-Large Chapter.

The chapter had 65 members in 1975 and today (2010) has 161 members. Most members in 1975 came from the federal sector such as Army, GAO, NAS, USAAA, Air Force, Navy and VA. Today, the mix is mainly federal (GAO, NASA, U.S. Coast Guard Finance Center, Navy, Air Force, DCAA and DoD IG) and local government (cities of Norfolk, VA Beach, Suffolk, Hampton, Chesapeake) and professional consulting firms (Savantage, Kearney & Co., Booz Allen, and Deloitte) composing membership. In recent years, we've lost a number of our chapter leaders to promotions to the metropolitan DC area.

The Old Dominion University student chapter, known as AGA @ Old Dominion University, was chartered as Student Chapter No. 1 on April 17, 1997. This chapter is unique to AGA, as it is the only remaining student chapter. While the chapter is separate from the Virginia Peninsula chapter, they remain very close through its sponsor Dr. Doug Ziegenfuss. This chapter is for finance and accounting students attending ODU. The student chapter has both evening and daytime meetings to accommodate both traditional and non traditional students via the Managerial Accounting and Auditing Club, where guest speakers make presentations about government and government accounting issues.

Chapter Mission

To create value for our members and communities through the advancement of government accountability by: (1) participating in the future of governmental financial management through research and development, (2) ensuring continuity of quality government accountability professionals, and (3) serving our member communities through our time and service.

At present, the following members have reached the following membership milestones:

40 Years and Lifetime Member

Mr. Joe B. Stevens (Became lifetime member June 2010)

Lifetime Membership is bestowed by AGA National upon individuals who have remained paid members for at least 40 consecutive years. This honor recognizes their life-long commitment to AGA. It is their commitment and determination that have made AGA the strong, vital organization it is today. As a token of their achievement, individuals are presented with a Lifetime Member certificate. As Lifetime Members, these individuals no longer pay AGA membership or chapter dues.

35 Years

Mr. Lee T. Ball (He becomes a lifetime member in June 2013.)

30 Years

Ms. Maria Elena Walters

Mr. Thomas E. Sayre

Mr. Michael A. Joseph

25 Years

Mr. Julien C. Picot Jr.

Mr. Douglas C. Sexton Sr.

Ms. Sharon Watkins Horne

Mr. Thomas A. Pantelides

Mr. Joseph A. Rutecki

Dr. Jesse W. Hughes
Mr. David A. Schmitt
Ms. Carol Arlene Jackson

20 Years

Mr. Mark A. Morehouse
Ms. Clare Witt Britcher
Ms. Brenda M. Waterfield

The chapter has evolved with the times over the years. Meetings traditionally were held on the third Thursday of each month in a single location. The dinner meetings gradually became a mixture of dinner meetings and luncheons, but always with dynamic speakers, fantastic meals and excellent networking opportunities. Later, the meeting locations themselves were rotated among choice locations on both sides of the tunnel to accommodate more members. From 2004 to 2007, members could attend meetings for free and nonmembers could attend for a nominal fee. These changes resulted in greater attendance at meetings and more active members.

Well Known Meeting Speakers:

Mary Sigillo Barrac, Belgium Dame, WWII Belgium Underground Leader
Charles A. Bowsher, Comptroller General of the United States, 1981-1996
June Gibbs Brown, CGFM, AGA National President 1985-1986, NASA Inspector General
Susan Crawford, Assistant Inspector General for Audit DoD
Gene L. Dodaro, Acting Comptroller General of the United States 2008
Bobby A. Derrick, CGFM, AGA National President 2004-2005
Eleanor Hill, DoD Inspector General
Bob Lieberman, Assistant Inspector General for Audit DoD
Gene Reardon, Assistant Inspector General for Audit DoD
Harold L. Stugart, AGA National President 1984-1985, Army Inspector General
Richard Kusserow, Inspector General, Health and Human Services

Past AGA-ASMC Mini-PDC Speakers:

ADM Jonathan W. Greenert, Vice Chief of Naval Operations (named CNO in 2011)
Robert F. Hale, CDFM, ASMC Executive Director, later Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) and Chief Financial Officer
Larry White, CGFM, CPA, USCG Finance Center, Commander
Bill D. Colvin, NASA Inspector General

Chapter Communications

Chapter communications saw much change in the past decade. The chapter went from sending its newsletter by U.S. mail to e-mail. This change alone resulted in significant savings to the chapter. About 2002, Janine Prybyla started the chapter's first website. The chapter won a national award for its newsletter in 2010.

The following articles have been published by chapter members in The Journal of Government Financial Management

- Spring 1999 Jesse Hughes – Social Insurance Programs – Financial Liability or Not?
- Winter 2001 Jesse Hughes – Two Sets of Internal Governmental Financial Standards: One Common, Audited Data Base
- Winter 2002 Leland Jordan – Summary Results of the Financial Information Needs of Government Policy, Program Operations Officials Survey

- Spring 2003 Leland Jordan – Strategic Budgeting
- Fall 2004 Jesse Hughes (co-author) – Should Financial Reporting Standards be established for Budget Reports in the Public Sector?
- Fall 2007 Jesse Hughes – Transitioning From Current Basis to Full Accrual Basis
- Winter 2006 Mary Lechner – Citizen-Centric Government Case Study: Virginia Beach

Job Fairs

For a number of years, the chapter hosted a job fair to give local college students an opportunity to learn more about local government employers.

Successful Job Fair Hosted by VA Peninsula Chapter

By: Patricia A. Link, VA Peninsula Chapter

On Tuesday, January 23, our chapter hosted the Second Annual Job Fair 2001 at the Holiday Inn Executive Center. Under the leadership of our Director of Education, Pat Link, we orchestrated a program designed to bring together federal, state and local government agencies and students from the area's colleges for an evening of networking, interviewing, dining and fun. We had approximately 10 agencies participating such as the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), Defense Contract Audit Agency (DCAA), Army Audit Agency (AAA), U.S. General Accounting Office (GAO), the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Virginia, and the Department of Veterans Affairs-Office of the Inspector General. Students from Old Dominion University, Norfolk State University, Hampton University, Christopher Newport University, and William and Mary University attended the job fair in order to learn more about government service and to perhaps acquire a full-time position or an internship with an agency. As part of the program, dinner was served to the approximately 80 attendees. AGA National President Bill Broadus, CGFM, attended and spoke about working for a government agency and the benefits of membership in professional organizations. He also presented $500 scholarships to previously selected students. Additionally, door prizes were given away throughout the evening. Overall, the event went very well and was another success for our chapter. Thanks to all the agencies who participated, the students who attended, and the committee that pulled it all together!

Other Honors

Member Who Made a Difference: Joseph A. Rutecki, CGFM

(AGA National distinction bestowed in its September 2010 Journal of Financial Management in honor of the organization's 60th anniversary)

AGA members often tell us they joined the Association or became active in a chapter because someone else reached out to them, and that made all the difference. When former Virginia Peninsula Chapter 2001 incoming president Dave Schmitt asked his good friend Joseph A. Rutecki, CGFM, to head up the chapter's Community Service Committee, Schmitt couldn't have known that many years later Rutecki would still be actively involved in the chapter's efforts to serve the local community. His many years of hard work led the chapter to nominate Rutecki as an AGA Member Who Made a Difference in the last decade.

During his 35-year career with the U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO), Rutecki has been involved with many of the agency's community service efforts including area blood drives, food collections, recycling, and combined federal campaigns. So it was a natural transition for Rutecki to put those skills to work for the VA Peninsula Chapter. His career began in Washington, D.C. but he's been in GAO's Norfolk office since the late 1970's.

Rutecki originally joined AGA in 1984 when he had a young family and traveling quite a bit for GAO and wasn't able to give as much of his time to the organization. Rutecki and his wife Sandy have two children, Kate, now 25, and Alex, 22. However, as his children and career grew he was in a position to be much more active and he became a chapter officer.

He inherited the chapter's community service program from a member who was leaving the area and had the opportunity to make it his own. "I didn't have a roadmap, so to speak, of 'this is how we do it,'" Rutecki said of those early years. He was lucky, he said, to have as fellow chapter members many colleagues from GAO who were used to giving their time and talent to their local community. At the same time, the chapter was growing to include more state and local members, which also helped to build a robust community service effort.

"What I did recently, because I'm coming up on retirement and didn't want to leave our chapter flat, is I got someone involved and groomed her for the Community Service Director role," said Rutecki, a GAO senior defense analyst. "Then they transferred to Washington, so now I am in the second year of mentoring."

In nominating Rutecki as a Member Who Made a Difference, Virginia Peninsula Chapter President Donna L. Miller, MSAC, wrote, "For eight of the last 10 years, Joe led the chapter's community service program as our director of community service and unselfishly expended countless hours of his time for our chapter and the community. Under his tenure and through his efforts, our chapter's community service has grown significantly and was selected in 2006 and 2007 by AGA national for its Group B Community Service Award.

"Under his direction and sustained efforts," Miller continued, "we have been able to contribute $10,000–$15,000 in donations and services to area charities and the Hampton Roads community. Joe has also been a CGFM since 1996 and has received just about all of our other chapter awards, including the Thomas E. Inman Award for Exceptional Service, the Behn C. Taylor outstanding chapter member award, the Edward A. Howe Impact Award, and a few Presidents' Awards."

Upon hearing that his chapter had nominated him as a Member Who Made a Difference, Rutecki said, "It was very humbling to be nominated because we have so many people who have given so much in the way of time and leadership. We've had some very strong leaders who have committed a lot of their time to our Virginia Peninsula Chapter."

—Marie S. Force (May 2010)

National Officers:

Many chapter leaders have later become regional and national officers within AGA. The chapter has provided two National Presidents while named FGAA: Edward A. Howe in 1973 and Behn C. Taylor in 1976. Dr. Jesse Hughes has served on the AGA International Development Committee and the AGA Journal Editorial Board. Earlier members who served on the National Executive Committee include Joe Stevens, Don Ingram, Paul Latta and Richard Payne. Recently, the chapter was represented at the national level by Mary Peterman (formerly Mary Lechner) as National Treasurer in 2010 and Kelly Stefanko as Senior Vice President (at-large). Julie V. Bryant, a past chapter president, later moved to the Northern Virginia Chapter and served as 2000-2001 National Treasurer. Renee Gilman, CGFM, served as the National Community Service Committee Chair during 2000-2001. Several members have served on national committees such as by-laws and awards. Additionally, members have served as the Mid-Atlantic Regional Vice President or a Mid-Atlantic Regional Coordinator. These include :Chris Rice 1996, Renee Picot (Gilman) 1998, Charles Parker 1999, Kelly Stefanko 2006, Janine Prybyla 2007, Mary Lechner (Peterman) 2008, Cecelia Smith 2010 and Mark Morehouse 2012

Chapter Recognition Program

The chapter has been a platinum chapter since 2006 and was a gold level chapter for many years before. Chapter recognition points are earned for chapter leadership, meetings, education, community service, membership, awards, certification, communications and early careers. The recognition levels start at bronze, then silver, then gold, and finally platinum.

Chapters at the gold or platinum are normally more active and provide a well-balanced program for its members.

Pre- 2004 All Star Chapter
2004 Gold Status Chapter
2005 Gold Status Chapter
2006 Platinum Status Chapter
2007 Platinum Status Chapter
2008 Platinum Status Chapter
2009 Platinum Status Chapter
2010 Platinum Status Chapter
2011 Platinum Status Chapter

Community Service:

Community service has always been a cornerstone of the chapter. These activities have helped the chapter maintain visibility in the community. Countless volunteer hours and donations of cash, toiletries and inspiring smiles have made the lives of many less fortunate than ourselves better. Examples of the organizations the chapter has helped include: March of Dimes, Make-A- Wish, Food Bank of Southeastern Virginia, EDMARC, Union Mission, Equikids, Clean the Bay, Toys for Tots, Salvation Army and the Samaritan House.

CGFM

The chapter has seen many members become Certified Government Financial Managers (CGFM). At present there are 61 CGFMs in the chapter. These members have demonstrated their knowledge of: (1) government environment, (2) government accounting, financial management and budgeting and (3) government financial management and control. Those certified have the potential to become leaders in the workplace and AGA. Also, chapter members hold 62 other professional certifications such as CPA, CIA and CFE.

Education

Another cornerstone of the chapter is education. The chapter has offered a single CPE for chapter meetings and 15-16 CPEs at Professional Development Conferences (PDC). These CPEs go a long way toward meeting the 80 CPE two-year requirement for CGFMs in the chapter. The regional PDC is normally held near Colonial Williamsburg and is co-hosted by the Richmond Chapter. The Mini-PDC is co-hosted by the Hampton Roads ASMC chapter at the Chesapeake Convention Center.

The chapter has held joint meetings with other professional organizations from time to time such as the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners, Certified Internal Auditors, AICPA and others. These meetings have helped the chapter rise from a gold chapter to a platinum chapter. Additional recognition points are earned for holding meetings with other professional organizations.

Chapter's 25th Anniversary 1985 – Chapter President Joe Stevens

Reaching this milestone is quite an honor for the chapter, and it signifies that our 33 founding members knew what they were doing when they brought AGA to Hampton Roads on Oct. 14, 1960. We are grateful to those individuals and to the many other members that have shared their time and expertise over the years to build and maintain a strong, professional organization.

Tonight's festivities are our way of honoring our founders, recognizing past accomplishments, and reaffirming our commitment to this chapter and our Association. In doing so, we want to thank each past and present member for their part in the chapter's success. Due to the quality of our members, we have had and continue to have an exemplary chapter. Let's build upon our outstanding tradition as we move toward our golden anniversary!

Memories from Past Chapter Presidents

Thomas E. Inman (1960-1961)

When reached by phone, Tom Inman's son said that his father, Past Chapter President Thomas E. Inman, passed away in April 2010. We noted that our chapter has an award named after his father, and the son was very pleased to hear that. He shared a story about his dad taking a transfer from San Antonio to Fort Monroe in 1957, and after moving his family across the country and showing up for his first day of work in Hampton, being told by his commanding officer not to get too comfortable, because Fort Monroe was slated to close! Tom Inman raised his family in the area and retired 18 years later in 1975. As we know, with Fort Monroe lasted another 37 or so years after!

Paul R. Allison (1975)

I was an accountant with the U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command (TRADOC) at Fort Monroe during my tenure as chapter president of AGA in 1975. In January 1975, I became the Chief of Accounting with the 14th Finance Section, U.S. Army in Nuremburg, Germany. In 1976, I became an Internal Auditor with TRADOC at Fort Monroe. In 1977, I was the Chief of Internal Review with the Comptroller at Fort Belvoir, VA. In 1978, I became an Auditor with the Defense Audit Service, Department of Defense in Arlington, VA. In 1983 until my retirement in 1999, I was a Management Analyst with the Office of the Inspector General, DoD, in Arlington, VA.

AGA was an opportunity to meet and network with people in my chosen profession. I was willing to serve because I was serious about succeeding in my career and felt that AGA would afford me the opportunity to demonstrate some leadership qualities while I was in a very early stage of my working life. AGA did enhance my career in ways that are hard to prove in purely black and white ways. I believe future employers looked upon my service favorably and realized that I was determined to succeed. In addition, AGA allowed me to meet many fellow professionals whose experience and company I respected and enjoyed and in a few instances I formed some friendships that have survived to this day.

My tenure as AGA chapter president in 1975 was very limited as I accepted a job in Europe in the middle of my term. As a consequence, Ernie Elder was the president for most of the year, and I now have learned that Ernie is deceased. I do not have any documents or photos from my time as president, and my recollection of that time (now more than 35 years ago) is also limited. I regret that I have no recollection of any fellow officers/directors other than Ernie who I mentioned earlier.

Joe Stevens (1985 and 1986)

At the time I served as president, I worked for the General Accounting Office's Norfolk Regional Office. I retired from GAO in January 1999. In retirement I have done some traveling and enjoyed watching my grandkids grow up. We spend a lot of time in Nags Head where we have a small condo. My greatest pleasure these days comes from reading and watching my grandson play soccer.

Serving as chapter president was certainly one of the highlights of my professional career. Working with leaders from other financial and audit organizations was exciting and helped sharpen those skills, which were required in my job at GAO. I got to know a lot of great people while involved with the chapter and I have many fond memories of these relationships. Over the years, I was fortunate to be involved in AGA activities at the national and chapter levels, which gave me a wonderful appreciation of the organization and its accomplishments.

J. P. Wilde was President-Elect and program director and Tom Sayre was a director and in charge of the 25th Anniversary Program. Other directors included Don Ingram, Lee Ball, Joe Struher and Paul Latta.

As president, my main emphasis focused on getting members and potential members to attend meetings. At that time the chapter had about 110 members and our meetings were held at the Fort Monroe Officer's Club. Though the efforts of the directors and other key members, we were able to average over 40 participants at each meeting. The highlight of my second year was the 25th anniversary celebration, which was a gala event attended by about 100 members and guests. The speaker was the National President June Brown (DOD IG).

Members in 1986 included Andy Habina, Joe Stevens, Tom Sayre, James Ogiba, Joe Struher, Lee Ball, and Edward Howe.

Richard Payne (1988-1989)

I was chapter president while employed by the U.S. Government Accountability Office. Afterward, I served as Regional Vice President and a member of AGA's National Executive Committee. I retired from GAO as Assistant Director for Defense Analysis in 2005. After retirement, I spent four years as Volunteer Tax Counselor for AARP's tax assistance programs in Chesapeake, and more recently, Charlottesville, VA. I moved to Palmyra, VA, in 2009 and am enjoying a new job as Grandpa. I am also a member of Fluvanna County's Leadership Training Committee. Marilyn and I have been traveling to Alaska, Glacier National Park and elsewhere while enjoying life.

I enjoyed my years in AGA and particularly the years leading up to and following my years as chapter president. AGA's monthly meetings and seminars provided wonderful professional development. The various leadership roles I held in our chapter, regionally and nationally were tremendous opportunities to network with others and employ the skills that aided in my career development. I was glad to continue the 10-year tradition whereby the chapter achieved the maximum number of chapter participation points. We delivered monthly training, two seminars and joint meetings with other local professional financial organizations, such as the American Society of Military Comptrollers.

Chapter Officers (1989-1990)

Julie V. Bryant

Fred Harrison (1990-1991)

At the time of my presidency, I worked for GAO, Norfolk Field Office. I completed my career with GAO in 2007. After retiring, I have been involved in independent consultant work and working as an independent contact investigator for CACI. I have also played a lot more golf and my wife and I have traveled a lot more.

I was involved with AGA to further the standards of financial management and accountability in the federal government. AGA also allowed me an avenue to network with professionals with a similar interest. Being a chapter president for AGA did add a credible line item on my resume.

During my year as presidency, the board was all great people, but I can not recall the exact individual or their roles so I will not guess. Highlights of my year as president were the two great seminars we put on and national recognitions the chapter received (although I do not recall the exact award we received).

I'm hoping to attend the 50th anniversary celebration in Virginia Beach September 23rd.

Chris Rice (1992-1993)

I was working for GAO then and now as part of our Norfolk Field Office. I had the privilege to serve as a Director (At Large) for ten additional years after finishing my year as Chapter President for the 1992-1993 program year. I also served as the East Regional Vice President for the 1995-1996 program year.

My 25 plus years in the AGA Virginia Peninsula Chapter have been a wonderful experience and provided many opportunities to serve in various positions such chairing multiple training conferences, serving as Director of Education, working with many extremely fun and talented people, and all of this really prepared me for my current position as Executive Director of the Mid Atlantic Intergovernmental Audit Forum.

Several key members of the Executive Board during my term included:

- Pat Link as President Elect;
- Doug Sexton as Immediate Past President;

- Ron Kaufman as Treasurer;
- Malvern Saavedra as Secretary and Newsletter Editor;
- Fred Harrison as Director of By-Laws;
- Michael Joseph as Director of Education; and
- Dr. Jesse Hughes as Director of Research

We held two well-attended educational conferences and generally averaged about 50 attendees for our monthly meeting which was quite good for back then. One funny story was when several of us were around the podium getting ready to ask everyone to sit down for the meal and speaker following our happy hour at one meeting. We were laughing and telling stories not knowing that the podium microphone was already on until Brad Simpson came forward to warn me! Better late than never!

I would not miss the 50th anniversary meeting for the world as it will be great seeing everyone again and retelling many of our old stories!

Angela Womack-Gregg (1994-1995)

I am now employed with DHS, C4IT Service Center, performing internal audits and property inspections. I completed a doctoral degree, moved into internal reviews and have become proficient at property and inventory inspections. I enjoyed the AGA family and the learning aspects of the organization. I have great contacts that I can call upon for the latest and greatest information and data. The one item that sticks out is that during my tenure as president we had the highest recognition for community service, the awareness that we brought to AGA members in getting involved and volunteering was at a peak during that era of the chapter's history. Chapter officers were Tammy Cherry, Chris Rice, Pat Link, Renee Picot, Phyliss Ingram and Dr. Jesse Hughes.

Dr. Jesse Hughes (1995-1996)

When I was president of the local chapter in 1996, I was the Associate Dean of the College of Business and Administration at Old Dominion University. I retired from the university in 1998 and have been traveling around the world since then helping other countries improve their financial management systems. Thus far, I have assisted 20 countries in each of the major continents.

Prior to becoming involved with the local chapter, I helped establish AGA chapters in California, Colorado and South Carolina. My involvement with AGA has given me a great opportunity to stay current in the latest technology and to keep up to date on managerial improvements throughout government. I can only hope that other AGA members take advantage of these opportunities as well.

Ron Ingram (2002-2003)

I worked for the U.S. Army Audit Agency during my presidential year. I still work for the agency. When I became chapter president I was an AGA member, but was not actively and regularly attending meetings. I had never served on the chapter council or any position within the chapter. Late in the program year the President-Elect, who also worked for the agency, accepted a promotion and moved out of the area. Then-President Dave Schmitt was completing his year and wanted relief. He tried to recruit someone to assume the position without success. It was coming to the point of either someone had to take over or the chapter could disband. In a moment of weakness, I accepted. I was truly unprepared for the challenges of the position and the chapter (and I) would not have survived without great help, advice and knowledge of great people like Mark Morehouse, Joe Rutecki, Chris Rice, Janine Prybyla and many others.

Unfortunately, I can't remember all the CEC members. But I know Janine Prybyla was President-Elect, Joe Rutecki handled community service. Mark Morehouse was a big help. The highlight of the year has to be that the chapter survived me. Our meetings were mostly held at the Holiday Inn off Newtown Road in Virginia Beach. The attendance was usually not very large.

Janine Prybyla (2003-2004)

Since being the chapter president, I served as AGA Mid-Atlantic Region RVP 2005-2006 (I think!). I continue to work at the U.S. Government Accountability Office. AGA was a great way to network with others throughout the Hampton Roads area, learn about various topics (and obtain CPEs) and socialize outside of work with others within my agency. I was willing to be involved as a chapter leader because of all of the dedicated people on the board and the membership that supported all of the events and made them a success. My participation as chapter president did enhance my career on various levels. It showed my willingness to participate in an extracurricular activity that supports the accountability profession, demonstrated professional development in terms of leadership, and also allowed me to practice my public speaking skills. The 2003-2004 program year was an extremely exciting and successful year for the Virginia Peninsula Chapter. For example, the Old Dominion University Student Chapter has continued to grow. Additionally, we once again presented three $750 AGA scholarships to top-level governmental accounting students at three local universities. This has been a great success for the last 15 years and the scholarship amount has grown from $50 to the current $750 level. We also had one social event, various community service events, and awarded almost 5,000 continuing professional education (CPE) credits through our educational seminars and monthly meetings.

Educational Seminars

The Virginia Peninsula Chapter met monthly from September through June. Some of the more interesting topics included: Current Issues Facing the Accounting Profession; A Taste of Local Government Auditing; Transforming Government with Technology; Jobs and Growth Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2003; and The Ethical Dilemma.

During this program year, the Virginia Peninsula Chapter also presented three Professional Development Seminars. In November, we conducted our Eighth Annual Mid-Atlantic Professional Development Conference in conjunction with AGA's Richmond Chapter. This event was held at the Williamsburg Hospitality House and Conference Center in the historic section of Williamsburg and was well attended and received very high scores from the attendees. The attendees also received 15 CPEs. In March, we co-sponsored our Spring Seminar with the American Society of Military Comptrollers (ASMC) and awarded 16 CPEs to all attendees for this two-day seminar. Our theme was "Taking Accountability to a Higher Level." Additionally, in May, we co-sponsored the 11th Annual Williamsburg Fraud Examiner Conference with the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners and Institute of Internal Auditors. This 2-day seminar provided an opportunity to earn another 16 CPEs.

Community Service

The Virginia Peninsula Chapter donated $1000 to the Make-A-Wish Foundation that was matched by AGA National, $500 to the Old Dominion University Accounting Department, $250 to the EquiKids Foundation for Disabled Children, $1,048 for the March of Dimes Foundation, and $100 to the Southeastern Virginia Food Bank. Our members also filled about 200 Christmas stockings for the Salvation Army to distribute to needy children in the area. Further, at our January Scholarship Night, we presented three $750 scholarships to students at area universities and provided them with AGA memberships paid for by our chapter. We also collected and distributed toiletry products to the Samaritan House for homeless and battered women and children. Finally, in June several members participated in the 16th annual Clean the Bay day and spent several hours cleaning the Chesapeake Bay of trash and debris.

National

During 2003-2004, Patricia Link served as the Chair of the AGA National Bylaws Committee. Fred Harrison served as the Regional Coordinator for Chapter Assistance and Development.

At AGA's June 2004 Professional Conference & Exposition held in Washington D.C., the Virginia Peninsula Chapter received a Gold Award once again. The Chapter experienced another sizable increase in our membership during the 2003-2004 program year and also received an award recognizing the chapter with highest overall membership growth for its region. The chapter also received Honorable Mention for its chapter website.

The Chapter earned almost $72 from selling Entertainment Books and also donated three free books to be raffle prizes for our two seminars.

Mark Morehouse (2004-2005)

My year as chapter president was a personal growth experience for this basically shy accountant. My employer at the time, as now, was the Military Sealift Command (MSC) with the U.S. Navy. Since '05 I have served the local chapter through assisting Ron Ingram with chapter recognition and small projects here and there while serving as a director-at-large. Additionally, I served as the Mid-Atlantic Regional Coordinator for Certification for two and half years. Before serving as president I was the chapter recognition director. For the past several years, I have been a dual member of the Cincinnati Chapter. Before moving to MSC in 1996, I was employed at the Naval Avionics Center in Indianapolis. While there I was a member of the Indianapolis chapter, where I served in various positions over a span of nine years such as education committee, publicity chair, meeting arrangements chair, community service chair and director-at-large. This chapter was rather large and our meetings normally had large turnouts.

Serving as chapter president does something to you personally. While you are a chapter member and you do not own the chapter, the chapter becomes part of you because of your devotion and resources (time, emotion and funds) to make your year successful. My association with AGA helped me in my career progression from GS-07 to GS-12 while at the Naval Avionics Center where I served as auditor, management analyst and administrative officer. My networking skills were enhanced during my year as chapter president and yes, I do think these skills helped me become a better accountant.

During the 2004-2005 program year, membership was around 200. Meetings normally had 40 to 60 members attend. At the time we experienced some attendance growth. We had several notable speakers during the year. Bobby Derrick as AGA National President spoke at our Career Fair meeting in October. I had known Bobby from my years at the Indianapolis chapter. He used to attend the pre-meetings we had each month. At the May meeting Mary Sigillo Barrac, a Belgium Dame, spoke about her experiences in the Belgium Underground during WWII. She made a very dramatic patriotic speech. We had a large turnout at this meeting.

(Mark Morehouse remains an active member of this chapter today, recently spotlighted for his volunteerism by AGA National President Lisa Casias in her Topics column. He was a member of the chapter's 50th anniversary planning committee).

Mary Lechner (2005-2006)

Since my year of presidency I have gone on to serve AGA at the National level, first as RVP of the MidAtlantic Region and I just concluded my year as AGA National Treasurer. I will serve one more year on the National Executive Committee. Professionally I changed positions, and am now a Vice President for Savantage Solutions. Personally, I have my dream “farm” in NC, just south of the VA border which I share with my best friend, my kids, 5 dogs, 4 cats, 2 horses, 2 goats and a bunny rabbit ☺.

Being our chapter president was an honor and privilege and I think one of the toughest “jobs” in the AGA governance structure including National level positions. I gained great perspective about how AGA really touches its membership – most of which happens at the local chapter level and how we can better help our members and our member organizations get the biggest bang for the buck out of their AGA Membership. Chapter presidency DEFINITELY enhanced my career opportunities ... its hard work but the opportunity to network with government professionals well above my pay grade and outside the area, gave me exposure to opportunities I would not have had otherwise.

My year was the chapter's 45th anniversary year. We achieved Platinum chapter status for the first time! We got the Governor of Virginia to declare March CGFM month. ... for the first time. We had RECORD attendance at meetings and conferences and a profitable year due to sponsorship focus. Many chapter level awards including Community Service.

Being full of energy and ideas, Mary's year as chapter president was an exciting and ambitious one. Plans included monthly meeting themes, an invitation to Governor Warner to accept an award from the chapter, “get 5” membership campaign, commercial sponsors, and succession planning for each position. Many VA Peninsula chapter conference goers will remember Mary's pledge...and later delivery...to wear a diaper if the fundraising goal for March of Dimes was achieved.

The spring joint conference with ASMC included the following speakers and topics:

- Mr. Tom Allen, newly appointed Chairman, Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board (FASAB) and former chairman, Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB)
- COL(R) Dave Berg, “Comptrollership Training at Syracuse University”
- Dr. C.J. McNair, USCG Academy “LEAN Management – Taking the Waste Out”
- Dr. Douglas Ziegenfuss, ODU “2006 Required Virginia Ethics CPE”
- Ms. Julie Bryant, CGFM, CPA, AGA National Office, “Measuring What You Manage”
- COL(R) Dave Weinberg “Taking Care of People”

- Mr. Dave McDermott, DFAS Client Executive for Navy and Marine Corps, "Process Management and Quality"
- LCDR Karen Somers, Navy Legal Services Officer, "Leadership"
- Ms. Christine Bacon, Navy Fleet and Family Support Center, "Motivation and Mentoring"
- Mr. John Choplinsky, Deputy Comptroller, Fleet Forces Command, "Financial Reporting"
- Ms. Melanie Thomas Armstrong, Director, PriceWaterhouseCoopers, "Internal Control Documentation Requirements"
- Mr. Ken Mason, Mason and Associates

JoAnn Stevenson (2006)

At the time of my chapter presidency, I was with the Defense Finance & Accounting Service-Norfolk. However, with over twenty-five years of extensive and progressive federal experience in accounting, customer service, training, supervision, and management, due to BRAC, I journey to and accepted an Accountant position with Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Indianapolis.

My new position is in the Strategic Business Management Office, Financial Management Center of Excellence, Shared Services Division, where I participated in coordinating, designing, revising, and maintaining Microsoft Access Database used for storing, updating, monitoring, and managing systems functional requirements.

Currently I am providing professional accounting systems research, analysis, and consultation services for Enterprise Resource Planning programs. I am responsible for designing, testing, analyzing, implementing, and maintaining Department of Defense (DoD) accounting, finance, and reporting systems requirements.

The moment I attended my very first meeting I was excuse me, hooked. You see I love serving and the professionalism of the organization was overwhelming. The VA Peninsula chapter members were very open to me on my first visit and I acquired a mentor (Mark Morehouse) all in the first visit.

My first position as Director of Meetings/Publicity continued to expose me to a commitment of volunteering, education and networking opportunities. I believe networking is a great reason that AGA and other professional organizations are beneficial to the workforce. Networking is more than just the luncheons, but a good place to start. Also, attending local and national professional development conferences, working on committees and volunteering with community service events are additional opportunities to meet others within and outside our own agency.

To-date, I have the most up-ward respect for Joe Rutecki and I'll call it his "community service events" because, he worked that program like a champ. I could hardly keep up with him and his dedication during my first year as a member. And today, the VA Peninsula Chapter has the best community service program. By the time I was elected president, Joe's program was one of the first and easiest task to incorporate into my program for the year! Thanks Joe!

Daily, I encourage my colleagues to join the AGA and immediately get involve by volunteering. I explain volunteering offers you the opportunity to meet new people, learn different ways to accomplish tasks, feel a sense of accomplishment, and sometimes turn lives around. It doesn't have to be a full time endeavor; a few hours a day or week will do. The rewards are numerous and your time and effort can make a difference to your community and organization.

It was an honor and privilege to lead this chapter and worked with generous members who volunteered to serve on the Chapter Executive Committee. Being a chapter president, I was entrusted immediately to lead in my current position, sit upon review panels for new positions and step in to assist with my new chapter who felt honored to have me on board when I arrived in Indianapolis.

My first memory on becoming President of the Virginia Peninsula Chapter was receiving my official "Congratulations" letter June 29, 2006 from the AGA National President (Jeffrey S. Hart) along with an AGA lapel pin. Following that inspiring kick off by the National President, were two great chapter meetings. We had 49 members attend in October and 74 in November! The growing meeting attendance was very encouraging.

As president, I got another opportunity to attend two great events which highlighted my belief in volunteering: Old Dominion University's first Accounting job fair (September 21, 2006) and Old Dominion University's Department of Accounting 5k run and walk. At left, yours truly, with Ms. Carolyn Heggins of the Virginia Beach Department of Public Health-Dental.

At left is Gail Artis and I representing our chapter at the job fair. This was a great opportunity for us to meet ODU's accounting students, alumni, private firms and other government agencies who recruited for internship, co-op and permanent employment opportunities, as well as introduce younger accounting students to our organization. Gail Artis, Kelly Stefanko, Dr. Ziegenfuss, ODU's AGA students, and yours truly also attended a luncheon with the accounting faculty.

Last but not least, receiving the AGA Chapter Recognition Award in Nashville, TN was the best memory of all.

Cecelia Smith (2007-2008)

At the time of my presidency and currently, I work at NASA Langley. Since my presidency, I have become a part of the AGA National Team. I served as the Regional Vice-President for the Mid-Atlantic Region and am a member of the National Awards Committee.

Being chapter president of AGA was very instrumental in enhancing my leadership skills and presentation skills. It gave me the opportunity to lead an organization, which was great experience that I could use in my day to day job. The VA Peninsula chapter was an exciting chapter to lead as we had a great Chapter Executive Board to work with. This made the job of president so much easier, knowing you had a great team to depend on.

I received an RVP Silver level award at the PDC in Orlando, FL in 2010. The Deputy CFO (my boss) attended and sent an email to the entire OCFO community. It was also announced on an Agency wide telecon with all of the NASA centers.

Highlights of my year include having attendance of around 70 members attending monthly luncheons, the chapter winning platinum status at the PDC, and the chapter's awards for CGFM, Community Service, Education, Membership and New Member Growth

(Note: Cecelia stepped in as president early, completing the 2006-2007 year, when JoAnn Stevenson's new position took her to Indianapolis. Cecelia remains active in the chapter today, serving as part of the chapter's 50th anniversary committee.)
